Telinga Microphones for the Best in Nature Recordings

NATURE RECORDISTS E-MAIL GROUP

I want to be sure that you know about the Nature Recordists e-Mail Discussion Group. This wonderful group is comprised of over 1100 recordists all over the world, all with a particular interest in recording the sounds of nature. Most of the best nature recordists working today, either professionally or as a hobby, are members of our group, you should be, too!

The members of the group are delighted to help with questions from new recordists, or to get advice from the old heads! You'll find people with experience in venues, techniques, equipment and every other facet of nature recording, and they're all anxious to share their knowledge.

To join the group, simply visit <http://groups.yahoo.com/group/naturerecordists/> or drop by the Naturesongs.com site and follow the pointers from there.

I hope to see you there!
